

Scottish Housing Regulator

Tenant Participation and Gypsy/Traveller Thematic And TPAS Scotland Online Focus Groups

The Scottish Housing Regulator is undertaking a Thematic Review of Tenant Participation, including a focus on Gypsy/Traveller participation. In this important thematic, it is intended to outline what tenants and residents can expect from their landlords and the outcomes that landlords should seek to deliver, along with examples of positive practice and success.

The Scottish Housing Regulator has commissioned TPAS Scotland to gather baseline information on current Tenant Participation activities across Scotland. To begin this work, TPAS Scotland will shortly be issuing a survey to all Social Landlords in Scotland.

In addition to the above survey, TPAS Scotland will be hosting a series of online focus groups for Tenants, at least one of these will be specifically aimed at the Gypsy/Traveller community and their representatives. The focus group will capture the view of tenants and residents in relation to Tenant Participation. If you are a tenant, tenant group or representative please contact -
